ROHTAK: The annual cultural, sports and management festival of Indian Institute of Management (IIM) Rohtak, Infusion, culminated on Sunday with a marathon in the morning.

Hundreds of sports enthusiasts participated in the marathon that started at Jat College, despite cold weather. Boxer Amit Panghal, wrestler Hardeep Singh and Miss India World-2018 Anukreethy Vas were the chief guests.

The day also witnessed the most awaited event of the festival, a live concert by Harry Sandhu, who performed some of his hits much to the delight of the audience.

The festival has witnessed participation from more than 250 institutes from across the country.

Speaking about the importance of such events, Prof Dheeraj Sharma, director of IIM Rohtak, said, “The future managers need to have cognitive intelligence, emotional intelligence, spiritual intelligence and somatic intelligence to excel. IIM Rohtak Infusion allows the student to work on all four types of intelligence by managing the event within the budget, managing people in the event and working with diverse stakeholders and making a contribution to the community.”
